

OLD GUERRERO

History In The Making

Old Guerrero still stands. Slowly the town crumbles as the lake level rises and then again recedes. Hurricane Dolly and the rains that followed were cause for concern as the lake level rose and threatened the church. Will the town disappear once the lake is again full? Oh, if the stones could talk! Take advantage of a once in a life time experience to walk the cobblestone streets of this forgotten city that once boasted a two story hotel. Box Lunch and snacks included.
